NOTE: This information was collected by directly contacting the state lead agencies to determine whether the general pest control category is adequate for professional pest management companies to perform disinfection services. A “Y” (Yes) response means that general pest control certification is adequate. An “N” (No) means that special provisions must be followed in addition to general pest control categories, such as a special license or certification.

This data set was updated by Nisus and was accurate as of date above. All applicators should verify current status with regulators as status may change without notice to the industry.
